

WILLIAM FOX PRESENTS GEORGE
WALSH AT ORPHEUM TONIGHT

George Walsh, the husky William Fox star who has gained fame as an "honest to goodness" scrapper will again appear upon the screen at the Orpheum Theatre tonight. The last picture in which Mr. Walsh was starred and which was shown at the Orpheum will be remembered by the theatre goers, as it was a picture that was approved and enjoyed by all. This picture was entitled "Melting Millions" and those that saw the production will agree that he did "some melting." Tonight's picture, "High Finance," gives Mr. Walsh even a better chance to show his remarkable strength and ability as an athlete.

George Walsh always plays a role of a strenuous strong man; and the role is not assumed. In actual life, it is impossible for anything and anyone to master him. One slight blow well placed—and the opponent offers no more resistance. That is why Mr. Walsh has literally fought himself into the hearts of the picture fans all over the country.

Saturday
On Saturday afternoon and evening Lillian Walker, the dimpled darling of the screen, will delight all members of her audience, in the swimming scenes of "Indiscretion," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature for this day.

Miss Walker plays the role of a care free girl whose mother's death has left her lacking in any knowledge of the conventions. She delights in fishing on Sunday, startling the townsfolk by prancing through the quiet streets barefooted and doing all the hundred and one things which are tabooed.

Sunday

Sunday brings to the Orpheum, Mr. E. H. Southern, who will appear in the title role of "An Enemy of the King." Mr. Southern is a renowned star and toured this country time and again in a repertoire of plays in which he made his mark as one of the foremost actors of this day. In 1903 he became the co-star with Julia Marlowe under the direction of Charles Frohman, which was practically the beginning of his career as a Shakespearean star. Beginning about 1906 he was under the direction of the Shuberts. Edith Storey, the versatile Vitagraph star, plays the feminine lead in this picture. Miss Storey scored a big hit here in Flagstaff when she last appeared in "The Tarantula."

This three day run of pictures that the Orpheum announces are of a very high quality and this goes to show that the management is making good their promise that nothing but the finest productions would be shown in that theatre.

White slave pictures, and anti-war pictures have been tabooed by Mr. Barnard, the owner of this progressive play house, and he has instructed his manager that no suggestive pictures of any description will be considered as worthy war time attraction for his theatre.

DR. A. B. DARBY PASSES AWAY IN INDIANA

Mrs. C. O. Lampland was called to her old home in Waterloo, Indiana, two weeks ago by a telegram stating that her father, Dr. A. B. Darby was dangerously ill. Word has been received that he died Friday last week. Dr. Darby was one of the oldest practicing physicians of his state and was active in his work until his health failed about a year ago. He held important positions both in public life and medical circles.

Dr. and Mrs. Darby visited Mrs. Lampland at the Observatory in the fall of 1915 and those here who made his acquaintance will deeply regret to hear of his death.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES

Isadora Valdivia Magdalena was adjudged to be feeble minded by the court Monday and ordered returned to her home in Winslow. She was found in the Flagstaff depot by the officers last week and taken into custody. She is married and is the mother of two children.

Alexandro Marquez, who was arrested several weeks ago by the sheriff's office, was arraigned in court Tuesday, charged with statutory rape, the defendant being a 12 year old girl of Williams. He pleaded not guilty and his trial set for the special jury session May 21st.

A foreclosure of mortgage was ordered Saturday in the case of R. H. Cameron vs. Integrity Mining Co. and C. Frank Dobler, as the defendants did not appear in the case. R. E. Morrison of Prescott, was attorney for the plaintiff and Joe Morrison, of Phoenix was here as a witness. The property foreclosed consisted of mining claims in the Grand Canyon district.

In the case of LaVergne vs. The Board of Trustees, Williams school district, which came up on Tuesday, demurrer by the defendants was entered on the grounds that the action was improperly brought. Dale is suing to recover wages due on a contract which is alleged to have been broken by the trustees. It was agreed that a new complaint would be filed. Attorney Crable represented the plaintiff, while C. B. Wilson appeared for the defendants.

An order was issued Monday calling for a special jury session to convene on the 12th day of May. The jury list will be drawn Saturday.

It was reported that on Tuesday night Tyson Schwalbe and Hazel Hopkins were arrested by Wick Thompson for disorderly conduct and both were in the Police Court Wednesday. Schwalbe was fined $10 on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, and Hopkins was fined $20 on a similar charge and again arrested and released by Judge Murphy from the Justice Court on probation.

COUNCIL MINUTES,
MEETING APRIL 28, 1917

Pursuant to call of the Mayor, the Common Council of the town of Flagstaff met in the town hall April 28th, Saturday, at 4:30 o'clock p. m. Present Mayor Finley, Councilmen Babbitt, Heiser, Richardson and Zalaha, Clerk Johnston and Attorney J. E. Jones.

Meeting was called for the purpose of discussing paving matters and deciding on the kind of paving to be specified.

Reports from several cities were read covering various kinds of paving, from which it appeared that bitulithic paving showed the lowest cost considering length of services. It was the sense of the council therefore, that "bitulithic wearing surface on concrete base" should be specified in the resolution of intention covering paving contemplated here.

Mr. W. L. Taylor, appeared before the Council representing the local lodge of Elks, requesting a flat license rate of $15.00 for each operating day for the Poole & Allen Carnival company, showing here under the auspices of the Elks.

Moved by Babbitt, seconded by Zalaha and unanimously carried that this rate be granted.

In view of the fact that better rates for paving could be obtained if the contractors were assured of plenty of local sand, it was decided that no sand should be hauled for any purpose except paving from the bed of the River De Flag from Cherry avenue south to and including the Santa Fe right-of-way, and the Marshal was instructed to have signs placed to this effect, and see that said order was enforced.

No further business appearing, the Council then adjourned.

Attest: ALEX. A. JOHNSTON,
Clerk, Town of Flagstaff.
Approved: S. L. FINLEY,
Mayor, Town of Flagstaff.

WAR BRINGS UP OLD TIME MEMORIES

Dan Hogan came into the office the other night and started to say something about Capt. John C. Greenway and then he happened to remember a lot of things about the old times when they were Rough Riders together in Cuba and he remarked that "every once in a while you think of someone that you used to know under trying circumstances and others you used to know when you were a kid and you would sit down and think of things that you used to do when kids and you talk about them and laugh and forget the war and the cattle and sheep and go way back to the Sunday school and the kissing games and the little red brick school houses and you think of some gray haired friend and now he wears glasses and has a poultry farm and then you recall the time that you and some other boys went to church and were eating choke cherries from the trees in the churchyard and one had a whistle, a tin whistle that was round and had a hole in the center of it, the kind that came with chewing gum, and he had it in his mouth while he was eating the cherries and he swallowed the whistle. It caught in his throat and every time he would breathe in it would whistle and then when he would breathe out it would whistle and it scared us so we all thought he was going to die and he got red and kept whistling and finally we told him to cough but he only whistled. We then took him home and we knew that as long as he whistled he was all right. We got him home and his mother took it out with a hook and anyway he is still alive and we can't help but think of those times when we were kids together.

Added Offense

Country Magistrate—Ten and costs for reckless driving.

Young Motorist—Listen, judge! We were in the way to your office to have you marry us.

Justice—Twenty and costs, then. You are a darned sight more reckless than I thought you were.
